

Gent, 19th july 1983.

To whom it may concern,

Since ten years I am working as an ergotherapist in the psychiatric field.

I came in contact with Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh and his work through the books of Jan Foudraine, a famous psychiatrist. This brought me to the reading of Bhagwan's own works.

I want to testify by this that the insights of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh have influenced modern psychology, and that they are practiced through many psychotherapeutic techniques as used in western Europe.

Yours sincerely,

Brigitte De Westelinck
