To Whom it may concern

I am a Support Teacher working with slow learning children in Somerset. Before this post I worked in a unit for disturbed children, as a teacher and counsellor.

I first came into contact with the teaching and philosophies of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh six years ago, and have attended courses organised by his followers. Being in touch with his teaching through tapes and through books I have been helped in my work in teaching, and find it helpful to me personally.

Although I have not met him personally I find it enough to know of his work, and believe that he is a teacher of international importance, and to his followers he is the centre of their religious experience.
