Subject: Immigration of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh

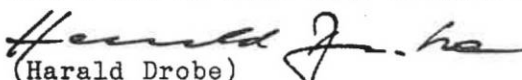

My Name is Harald Drobe, born July 27th 1948 in Bad Vilbel, Germany. After studies of sociology and economics I worked as financial journalist. In 1975 I joined a US-Brokerage firm, founded in 1888, where I worked as a Registered Commodity Representative, approved by the CFTC, later also as a Stock- and Options-Broker with SEC-approval. Untill 1983 I managed the Commodity Dept. of Hornblower as a director. Today I am a nonactive partner (GmbH) of the company. Through my business I am in contact to all major US-exchanges, had several trips to the States where I met real friends. So I am familiar with the way of living and thinking of America's "active ones", not only from a business aspect.

I always took this job as an opportunity to be creative, to be aware. I always felt great satisfaction in contributing to economic efficiency and balance beyond the coverage of individual needs. For my feeling the importance of being successful as an individual, but also as a state or system only makes sense if there is an "inner success" too; if there is a balance between the physical and the spirituall needs. In this way I was a searcher all my life, met a lot of crooks but also many helpful phenomenons either side. It might have been our "western speed" which made us ignore the aspect of inner experience - which made us feed our body but pine our soul.

My way of searching was peaked when I met BHAGWAN SHREE RAJNEESH. In many of his meditations I experienced all my conditionings which made me live the life of others; I felt my hungry heart which remained unsatisfied so far from all the words about love. Through BHAGWAN's abilities I found myself, my very personality. Through Him my heart and my consciounes have been connected. But His greatest gift upon all this is the experience of tremendous love - pure love like godliness, coming like a shadow.

Only as a "complete" human beeing I feel ready to cope with reality, feel able to manage the problems of our today's world. Just look how the disciples of BHAGWAN SHREE RAJNEESH are dealing with reality - how they live and celebrate life. The struggle of thousands of others will hardly succeed. The new age calls for a new man; less than that won't do.

Don't let us miss this chance: BHAGWAN SHREE RAJNEESH !
