TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I am a professional musician with fifteen years' experience in the music industry.

It has recently been brought to my attention that the Indian religious leader, Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh, is having difficulty becoming a resident of the U.S.. This surprises me as I feel he is in no way a threat to this constitution, rather I consider him to be a major force for world peace. Having read some of his books and heard some of the very beautiful and inspiring music played by his followers, I feel his brand of positive thinking is a very important alternative to the negativity, anxiety and anarchy that is so apparent in modern society.

His experiment in communal living, Rajneeshparam, Oregon, seems to me to revive all that is good in the American pioneering spirit, and I feel that it would be a major loss to this country if he had to leave and his efforts for sanity and unity were thwarted. He has my support.

Yours sincerely,
