To Whom it may concern,

It is not easy to try & put into words the love & devotion I feel for my spiritual teacher, master friend, Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh and hence the most beautiful communion I can have with him is in silent loving. I had heard of Bhagwan in 1975 & was drawn to his teachings via his books & in 1982 went to Oregon to find out what this man was all about. The love that overflows from Bhagwan speaks of a joy, peace & celebration that I hadn't believed possible - in fact if someone had talked about it, I would have been sceptical. It was only in that silent space in my heart, where we all fall in love, that I could truly hear his message for me.

If I feel the need to hear Bhagwan's words there are hundreds of books & tapes where he can speak to me on any subject. But his true message for me comes through in the meditative silence of attuned hearts. For centuries words have destroyed the true message of religion & I feel overwhelming gratitude to be in contact with a living spiritual master.

If the spaces between my words speak to you, then you have heard my heart speak, with Peace & love

Thyan Savitri.
