To whom it may concern:

Nearly by chance I found a book of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh. Driven by curiosity, not knowing anything about him, I started to read it. It was a real revelation and a continuous discovery. Suddenly I clearly saw what I was feeling without clarity and in confusion, even if it felt right. After a first moment of choc (His way of expression, so direct, simple and clear) I felt a force inside of me pushing me to listen to His words, a sudden thirst of knowing.

From this moment I felt the urge to read also other books and live what Bhagwan was saying.

I often go to a Rajneesh Meditation Center following the meditations and partecipating in a dance group. Each time it's a bath of energy, a tangible sensation that there is something very special, an ardous path which is true and right.
