To whom it may concern:

Since 7 years I am working in a psychotherapeutic profession and I have treated also very strongly disturbed patients. My long-time intensive experiences with this and other clientel made the necessity evident to me of a superior concept of psychology which delivers a wider and broader frame as the traditional psychology and its methods.

Although the modern (humanistic) psychology has done great progress we are confronted with a general lack of sense of living which leads to the various outsider-groups of society.

As I got to know Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh years ago by his books and tapes and also personally my concepts of psychological and therapeutical views were enriched immensely. This man has available a highly specialised knowledge and moreover the ability to teach his knowledge theoretically and practically.

From my more than 5 years experiences as a therapist-trainer and supervisor I can estimate of what immense value a teacher is who can transfer his knowledge into experiences for his disciples which means really "to become what you know".

Finally the exceptional abilities of this man are proved in the field of religion and spirituality which are areas that provide a frame for the human mankind to find a sense of life.

I am absolutely convinced that an even hundred per cent perfect psychology and psychotherapy does not enable human mankind to solve the problems of this time effectively and adequately. It needs a philosophy that makes a new establishing of old religious binding possible and to find a new definition of human being by a new sense of life.

One who opens a door for those bindings is Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh who is able (more than any other person I got to know) to show a practical way to a solution of the fatal situation of modern mankind.

To have a man which such extraordinary and rare qualities in our environment can only be seen as grace.

Yours sincerely
