To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to you on behalf of a person whom I believe to be one of the greatest intellectual giants of our times- Sri Bhagwan Rajneesh.

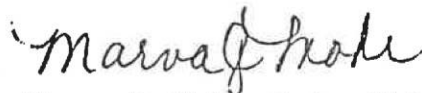

As an international legal activist, I am aware of the writings of this esteemed man. In my opinion, his written contributions alone have substantially advanced the thinking of many of us in the international human rights arena. Moreover, he has so impacted a number of legalists, both in the United States and abroad, in such a way as to bring about a re-thinking, and I believe future re-shaping, in the applications and operating principles of international law.

It is paramount that a person of Mr. Rajneesh's character, intellect, and vision remain in a country such as the United States to more easily facilitate publication of his works and to afford the United States legal community ready access to him.

I strongly urge you to clear any immigration procedures and processes that would quickly grant Mr. Rajneesh his requested immigration status in the United States.

Sincerely,

Marva J. Mohr, B.A., M.A., J.D.
