To whom it may concern:

My studies in the field of German literature, linguistics and paedagogics (Berne, Heidelberg, Berlin and Zurich) and my work as a teacher for German language and literature and for children's language development at the Kindergarten Teachers' Training College in Zurich have been profoundly enriched by the outstanding teachings of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh. Not only is he a great poet of true insight and beauty, but also his ideas about education show a most profound wisdom and truth about the essential meaning of teaching children and allow them to grow up as genuine human beings.

I should like to ask you to grant Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh the right to stay permanently in the United States of America, where his disciples and everybody willing to do so can grow in his blissful presence, and where the fascinating experiment of Rajneeshpuram has begun to turn a deserted ranch into a paradise of people living together peacefully and in a healthy and loving way, to blossom under the climate of a generous nation which has a long and unique tradition to shelter new experiments in human growth whatsoever.
