

To whom it may concern,

I am married and a mother of a three year old child. Since I graduated from business school in 1981 I have been employed in the public relations field, including a year as promotions manager for one of South Florida's largest and newest marinas.

I would like to tell you about the affect that Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh has had on my ability to enjoy my life and create abundance in it. His presence has allowed me to 'go inside' with intelligence; understanding myself and getting familiar with my patterns.

This has created an honesty in me that comes from clarity. With the love that I am feeling, I find myself able to deal with public relations matters more straightforwardly. I am in contact with people all day. It used to be that I would get fed up with people and get weary unnecessarily, bringing that into my home at the end of the day. Now I put in a ten hour day and still come home nice and have energy for my family. There is love and openness in our home and this is beautiful for my son, who is alert, happy, and is regarded as ahead of his age group in School. Both my son and I experience his presence concretely and share in this openness with each other and others.

Sincerely yours

Rebecca C. Tyroller
