To Whom It May Concern,

I am an automotive engineer. I studied mechanical engineering at the University of Aachen, West Germany and received a degree as a Dipl. Inj. During my study which included many different kinds of sciences I suddenly realized that science does not satisfy me because there was something missing; it was not complete. I did not know what it was I was looking for. That was the point where I got to know Bhagwan Shree Rjaneesh, a person with extraordinary abilities in many fields. For years he was talking about the things I was looking for. He showed me the way to connect science with religion.

All this made me become a disciple of this extraordinary man and I see more and more scientists of many countries in the free world being fascinated by this extraordinary religious teacher.
