

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

My name is Jan Kraal (born 18 December 1950). I am a Dutch citizen, and I am living at the Prins Hendrikstraat 64, 1931 BK Egmond aan Zee, Holland.

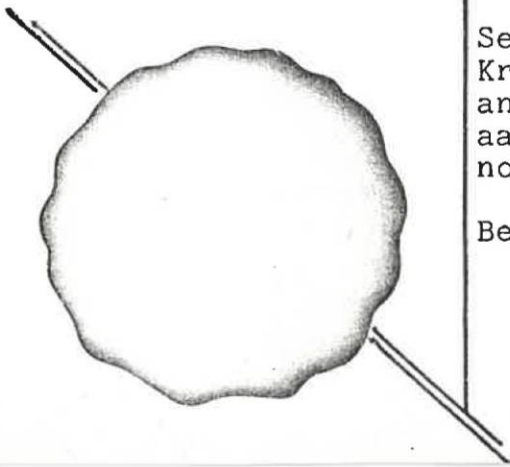

I studied sociology at the "Vrije Universiteit" in Amsterdam and received my degree there in 1976. My specialization was social work. I have done research projects 1) in the field of social work (functional analysis) and 2) in the field of education (evaluating experimental educational programme) and have published about this. In 1979 I first read about Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh, and his teachings appealed so much to me that I decided to visit him in India. There I became a sannyasin.

It is my belief and strong conviction, that Bhagwan's view on man is leading to a totally new way of living, such as is recently being realized in the new commune in Rajneeshpuram, Oregon and many Rajneesh communes throughout the world.

Sociologically these are to be recognized as unique experiments. The communal cooperation, the civic organization, the approach to the environment, the humor and basic lightness, can truly be hardly compared to any similar past or contemporary attempts to further the well-being of man.
