Since I have been a Saanyasin - a disciple of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh, 2 1/2 years - the quality of my life totally changed.

About 3 years ago I felt in a miserable situation. I was a teacher in a public school and couldn't find a way within an institution with all its rules and orders to give children enough space to live and grow in a human and free way.

My first contact with Bhagwan was reading a book, where I found a new dimension of psychology. Since years I was reading and operating in this science including psychological sessions and groups because my personal and working situation had already touched my health. Also I had started to become a religious searcher. Bhagwan taught me to see connections (health, psychic situation, religious questions), to see my situation as a totality and to start to change my life: not to change the world and fight for peace, but to change myself, to take responsibility and find a way of positive living.

I started to visit Rajneesh-Meditation Centers, had contacts with Samyasaṁ read his books, listened to his lectures, did his meditations, visited Rajneesh-puram, the beautiful oasis and Bhagwan's present to the world.

The result up to now is that my health is in order and my personal life and work transformed.

Bhagwan's new view of man's being and living inspired and inspired me, so that I found a positive way of living and being in harmony with me, with nature and with people around me.

For my person, Bhagwan is the best psychologist I can imagine, with entire understanding of the complexity of man.

Bhagwan is my religious teacher, and I feel the communion between Him and me even deeper since He is in silence.

I studied the German language and poetry, and I found Bhagwan a great poet, His language is no more prose, He uses the language of a great poet. Listening to Him or reading Him is like listening to music - He expresses and explains and talks about great scriptures and philosophers in such a simple and natural way that only a genius is able to.

For my work I could find a way of teaching more from the heart, a way of lovingly working together within an institution, respecting the individuality of each other. Parents, pupils and collegians attested me having become a more loving and happy and laughing teacher.

Love and greeting from Ma Paul
