To whom it may concern:

I have always been a farmer in Holland and California, but have never seen so much love and joy in farming since I came to Rancho Rajneesh in Oregon.

I became a disciple of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh during the summer festival in July and reading his books and experiencing his meditations, I recognize him as a man of great intelligence, knowledge and wisdom.

Having always had a great interest in nature, I can't think of another place where people are so carefull about their environment as at this place here in Oregon, where work and living is done with so much love and care. All this is inspired by our great master Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh.

I am very glad I came across such a beautiful man and would be very happy if this outstanding teacher and religious master can stay in the U.S.A. so we all can benefit by being in his presence here in Oregon.

Sincerely yours,

Hans Haring
