To whom it may concern,

Love,

Christ has led my way to the teachings and work of my beloved master, Bhagawan Sri Rajneesh.

I'm 23 years old; my profession is a gardener. After receiving my certificate, I've worked for one and a half year as an ambulance-driver, as an exemption instead of serving in the armed-forces. This was accepted on religious reasons, though I was not member of a church or any religious organisation at this time. During this service I'd several opportunities to experience death, what gave me deep insights in the nature of life and also changed my very attitude towards being.

In my relation with my family, which is still very deep and intense, religious and philosophical themes were subject of the often discussions, especially with my father and grandfather, both teachers at the high-school in philosophy and similar subjects.

All this laid the foundations for spiritual search and the longing for the experience of truth.

I came across Bhagavan's teachings and ~~saw~~ first time approximately before 2 years, when a friend of mine (who's not a Rajneesh) told me about meditation techniques practiced in the Rajneesh - Meditation - Center of Hanover, of which he was very impressed.

I was practicing Rajneesh - Dynamic - Meditation and Rajneesh - Vada Brahma - Meditation, and I realized an immense opening towards reality, life becomes colorful and bright again. His techniques are something of great value for the western world, which the traditional methods couldn't ~~of~~ help.

In his discourses about nearly everything that appears in human life, I've found easy and humorous solutions to the troubles of my mind. His talkings about Jesus, Buddha and other enlightened Masters give delighting visions of themes I thought to know.

His presence in my life as a disciple opens doors ~~of~~ immense energy, what I can feel in every moment. He changes the quality and intensity in the work I'm doing, as well as in my relation to other people. Being with Him in silence during Sabrang is the deepest experience for me 31's through his presence & discovering way towards freedom, towards my inner being.

Yours sincerely,

Sant Vimal Shelta
