To Whom it may concern,

I have been managing business^{es} for 12 years. I am now 33 years old. My studies were business oriented and at the age of 19 I received a scholarship to study management. During my years in management I attended many business seminars and learned all the various management techniques.

Before I came in contact with Bhagwan I was managing for results. ~~AT~~ Since I started to read Bhagwan's books in 1978 my way of managing ~~of~~ ^{on} the top management level of a multinational company changed significantly. I became much more concerned about people's needs, more understanding towards other people, introducing in the company a more humanistic approach.

Very soon that change happened throughout the various management levels. Employees became much more satisfied, happier, and the company had better results, Bhagwan's contribution to the science of Management is of an immense value. The whole business world could be greatly benefited by using Bhagwan's approach.

Thanks to Bhagwan I became very creative in the field of management. Through meditation, Bhagwan made me aware that there was a possibility to communicate without words, that is silence.

Thanks to him a desert is being turned into an oasis, a unique place is created in Rajneeshpuram, attracting every year thousands of people from all over the world, drawing significant funds to the U.S.A. and benefiting the whole economy.
