

T. W. 17 M. 3.

I am a banker and I have just begun studying pediatrics. I met Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh encountering and experiencing myself directly. Practising Dynamic Meditation in a growth-group I was enjoyed this technique from Bhagwan totally from the very first time doing it. I was ^{daily} meditating 9 months in a Bhagwan S. R. Med. Center in Glogne and became an Ashramite there a little later. When I started to read books of B.S.R. I understood more and more where B.S.R. work was aiming at. Through his Meditation techniques I learnt a lot about myself. Many things which I was doing automatically and unconsciously I can see now very clearly. At the same time I have learnt and I am still learning to accept myself as I am. This for me is the most essential point which B.S.R. has revealed to me: to be fully aware of what I am doing, to accept and to love myself. The more I accept myself and love myself the more I feel able to accept and love others, not to have them changed according to my wishes. ^{Through} B.S.R. I learned to enjoy life and to celebrate whatever happens. The ongoing fighting against anything ceases more and more and my being is filled with joy and love. I was initiated in May '81 in Glogne. At that time He went into Silence and I felt calm more close since then. I myself was experimenting ^{with} and experiencing Silence.

And ~~in~~ this silence enabled me to become aware of my feelings and to feel my heart-energy more. The deep communion which was happening in silence with other human beings I just can't explain or put into words.

I met my Master B.S.R. in Summer 82 in Oregon the first time personally. I have never been to America before and would have never come to this desert spot in Oregon. But now out of this desert paradise is happening. So much life and love I have nowhere else experienced.

I feel connected with B. in deep love. He is my master and he teaches me to love. He is love and through his silence the heart to heart communion ~~with us~~ between us and him is happening.

For me it is very important that B. is in Oregon because he shows us how to live together in love and harmony in the commune created by him.

Just his presence is inspiring us to accomplish things which some other people believe almost impossible - like the flowering of a former deserted Ranch - and to open up to the beauty and joy of life.

For 3 months I am staying here as a ~~uninvited~~ guest and when I go back to Cologne I will share this joy in my work.

My life has become rich with B. and I really want to share this riches with other ~~some~~ people
