To Whom it may Concern

I would like to share with you something of who the religious leader and Enlightened Master Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh is, as I experience Him, and as I see His value to this country and to humanity.

Firstly, I have been a sannyasin, a disciple of Bhagwan for six years.

Previously I had studied Civil Engineering at Auckland University, New Zealand for 3 1/2 years, then have worked in engineering jobs, as a carpenter and landscaper.

But I was basically dissatisfied, looking for something more.

I heard of Bhagwan in 1977 and, captivated by what he said, I went to India to see him.

Here was a man who not only expressed a very deep understanding of human nature and how to transform mankind, but whose very presence, very being touched peoples innermost core, and moved them to a greater fullness of who they really are.

[The experience of Bhagwan's presence cannot adequately be put into words. It's like falling in love - and much more.]

So since I have been a sannyasin I have seen myself explore more of what my real potential is.

Now, working in Rajneeshpuram as a planner and engineer, I see that I am living so much of the talents and abilities that lay dormant within me all my life.

And what is this transforming effect?

The alchemy of it is love. Sitting in His Presence nourishes me, allows me to live more, love more, laugh

This transforming effect which Bhagwan has on people is evident here at Rajneeshpuram. Just seeing people living and working together with so much enjoyment, love, enthusiasm and aliveness.

The amazing things we have accomplished speak for themselves.

If only Bhagwan could be more available to more people, with more people being transformed by His magical Presence and living more intensely, creatively, more in harmony with themselves and with others. This whole country could be transformed.

Bhagwan is undoubtedly an invaluable asset to this country - and to the world.

His Blessings
