TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Bhagwan's presence in America and his influence around the world is as "the ray of hope" for life and love and laughter to prevail once again over the destructive and miserable chaos that man has created in the world, most predominantly over the last 30 years.

I was educated in England and Australia and finished formal schooling with a degree in Arts at the Institute of Technology in Sydney. From that time on I taught English to foreign migrants and helped research language learning in children and adults. As a disciple of Bhagwan's, it has always felt like he is doing the work for me. The vitality and love for life and total experience that he awakens in his sannyasins is transferred to others, and I found my students approaching their language learning with the same vitality.

This approach to life and work is evident on the ranch; it can be seen in the relaxed yet powerhouse way that the ranch is growing and in the smiles that still show after ten hours of digging ditches..

There is no one other than Bhagwan inspiring so much that is positive and life-fulfilling in people and through people to the land, and through the land to other people and other lands .....

Yours sincerely,

Ma Anand Parinita
