To whom it may concern

The first time I came in touch with Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh was through a tape. I fell asleep. So I don't remember what he spoke about. But I was interested anyway. Then I started to read his books, which intellectually were the best I have ever read. I still was only interested. It was when I saw a videotape of him in silence that I started to feel the communication and the urge to be in his presence. So I did all I could to visit Rajneeshpuram when it became possible. It is nearly indiscrivable what happened when I saw him driving by for the first time. I felt total happiness a state of being I never experienced before. I could not imagine how it would be to sit with him for one hour, if driving by I felt already so blissfull.

No words, no video's, nothing has done so much to me as sitting with him in silence and dancing in his presence. These are the most beautiful hours in my life.

Since this experience, happiness is so much more with me in daily life. And I hope it will keep growing by seeing him, being with him and his people.
