

Dear Sir,

I've heard the news that Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh has been refused to immigrate into the United States.

I don't understand this refusal, because of my experience that he is a unique Master.

My name is Dhyan Anekant and I'm a disciple of Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh since January 1981.

Before I had a catholic education and I've studied psychology. As I didn't feel satisfied with myself, I began to search for essential values of life. Three years ago I read the book 'I am the gate'. While reading this, I realised that I could find more than I had ever experienced in my catholic education. So I went to Poona (India) and through meditations and inner growth groups during six weeks, I realised that I had to follow this path, to come closer to my real self.

The last two years I went to Rajneeshpuram and enjoyed it very much to be in the presence of Bhagwan.

I hope that this refusal will not be definite and that the U.S. authorities will review their decision.

Best regards,

Paula Aerts
