Dear Sir

My name is Daniel M Connor and I have been professionally involved in the Martial Arts since 1964, having studied Karate (Nihon University), Tai-Chi (Peking University) and various martial disciplines throughout the Far East.

I feel that Bhagwan has made great accomplishments in the field of human relationships, especially in the creating of awareness in people who have been atomized by society both as an educationalist and interpreter of the essence of religions and their relevance to today's society.

I first came to know of Bhagwan through his books and tapes which enlightened me on many points of human nature half hidden in today's mass consciousness.

Bhagwan's international renown in the field of Psychotherapy and his implementation of the various therapies available today has helped create a mass following of people disillusioned with the material aspects of their lives, and I believe that this has aided them in functioning. I feel his energy has enabled them to live with themselves at peace.

Yours faithfully

DANIEL M CONNOR
