

To show if my concern,

I am a disciple of Bhagwan Shree Rajguroh and I would like to share with you the uniqueness of my relationship with him.

A Master-disciple relationship is one of love and love is something that can be destroyed only with one thing: words.

Words are useful in the beginning when you need to understand things, but in the end the physical presence of the beloved is what really counts, words cannot be used.

Now, what a Master is, is difficult to put into words but I'll try anyway. A Master is like an open channel through which infinite energy love is pouring, he has become one with the universe, he has gone beyond the time-space dimension in which we are living and therefore beyond all the possible suffering of unfulfilled desires. He lives in a climate of joy, peace, blissfulness and all this through his enormous understanding of the human mind. He is one who has made a reality of the tremendous potential hidden in every human being.

So for a disciple the most important thing is to be in a silent communion with him so that he can also be open to receive his grace. That is why we have meditations called "Satsang" and "Darshan" that roughly mean "to be in the presence of the Master".

This beauty and love can also be experienced

of his presence is so precious to us
That is why his being in the United States is so important to us all.

Please do not be in a hurry to judge this man as one of the many "gurus" or so called spiritual masters that are around today.
This man is a unique expression of extremely sharp understanding, great culture and exquisite love and benevolence, this is a rare flower of a unique kind of which this earth has seen but few.

with respect
